MASTER OF SOCIAL SCIENCES IN INDUSTRIAL-ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

This master-level programme aims to prepare students for using psychological knowledge and principles to enhance employee well-being and organizational productivity.

This programme accepts new students in the September semester only. All of the 11 programme courses will be taught through a face-to-face mode, which can be completed in one year by full-time or two-four years by part-time studies.

Programme-specific entry requirements:
To enter the programme, applicants should:
(a) have a bachelor’s degree with honours from a recognized university program
(b) (for applicants from non-psychology programmes) have completed at least one undergraduate introductory psychology course and one undergraduate behavioural statistics course with satisfactory results.
(c) have a good command of the English language.
(d) preferably have work experience

Students pursuing this programme must successfully complete 60 credits from the following courses:

- PSYCA800F Research Methods and Statistics (10)
- PSYCA801F Job Analysis and Evaluation (5)
- PSYCA802F Psychological Assessment (5)
- PSYCA803F Personnel Selection (5)
- PSYCA804F Performance Appraisal (5)
- PSYCA805F Employee Training and Development (5)
- PSYCA806F Work Motivation and Attitude (5)
- PSYCA807F Work Groups and Leadership (5)
- PSYCA808F Organizational Theory and Development (5)
- PSYCA809F Occupational Safety and Health Psychology (5)
- PSYCA810F Consumer Behavior (5); or PSYCA811F Organizational Practicum (5)

Important notes to prospective students:
(a) This programme presents its courses in September, January and May semesters in a row, covering 20 credits each semester.
(b) All courses will be held in Homantin campus in weekday evenings and/or weekend afternoons.
(c) Course fees, as of now, are $1,130-1,420 per credit, subject to the annual adjustment by the University.
(d) Students' performance in each course will be assessed by coursework and a final examination/project.

Enquiry Application
Dr. Tess PAK Late January to end July 2014
Email: spak@ouhk.edu.hk